Dear Aruna,

The UK optometry degree involves a lot of theoretical and practical knowledge to a high standard. It also requires the learner to undertake a lot of work and reading around the subject which is why the entry requirements are very high.

Best wishes,

Aishah Fazlanie

Hello

I am a international student who is hoping to apply to optometry this year.

I therefore do not have a GOC number yet.

Could you please help me with my query?

Regards,
Aruna

Hello

I have noticed that many UK optometry courses such as

Manchester's MSci in Optometry

Hertfordshire's MOptom

Cardiff's BOptom/BSc in Optometry (now the MOptom)

Aston's MOptom

All ask for high A Level grades at grades A in Science subjects with typical offers of AAB-AAA. Why is this?

Is it anything to do with the academic difficulty or demand of optometry degrees?

I look forward to hearing from you

Aruna
